DETAILED ACTION

This communication is in response to amendment filed 10/8/2008.

Response to Amendment

The amendments include:

Amended claims: 1-24

Unchanged: 25-26

Canceled: 27-35

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fails to teach or render obvious the limitation of independent claims. The Applicant has claims a soft account for student of university receiving a refund.

Independent claim 1 discloses a computer-readable medium with instruction for issuing a paper check for a refund to a student after requesting and verifying the correct amount.

Independent claim 9 discloses a computer-readable medium with instruction for issuing a refund in accordance with the determined delivery method.

The following prior art references have been deemed most relevant to the allowed claim(s):

The closest prior art Eda (PGPUB 2002/0152162) teaches an escrow system between a buyer and supplier including the ability to specify account, instructions, receipt verification and final payment authorization. This invention is for buying goods or services in exchange for a price and the good or services can be verified before the money is transfer to the supplier. This invention has the benefit of giving both the buyer and seller additional protections, for the buyer the know the supplier does not get paid until they verify the goods and for the seller they know the cash is available before sending the goods.

The closest prior art Boesch et al. (US Patent 6,092,053) teaches a electronic commerce system allowing consumers to purchase items over a network and merchants to receive payment information related to the purchases. More importantly this invention explicitly describes a potential student (as the accessee) and educational institution (as the accessor).

The closest prior art PNC (NPL article from PR Newswire Aug 24, 2000) discloses a banking program between University of Pittsburgh and PNC bank to offer banking services to students.

Claims 1-26 are allowed because Eda, Boesch and PNC references as discussed above as the Closest Prior art of record fails to teach or render obvious a method of authorization a refund without good or services being exchanged prior to arranging for the refund amount to be delivered.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
